COLD HALTS WORK

No One Would Cut Ice at Municipal Plant With Temperature at Zero.

Millimantie is again in the grip of Mitter cold, and no one is silvring out of doors more than is absolutely necessary. The temperature figures for the vicinity range from 6 to 14 below. The grocery stores bore the brunt of the cold, for many people who otherwise would stop for their provisions took advantage of the telephone, and it was a case of deliver the goods with the clerks. The plumbers were not quite as basy as in the cold snap a short time ago.

No work was done at the city's ice plant on account of the cold and wind there. The thermometer registered zero exactly at noon Thursday out at the plant, and Superintendent Mouiton said he blamed nobody for refusing to work under such conditions.

one of the warm days, there is no kick coming on the size. All those who are in the know on the ice question say that the spot is excellently adapted to harvest ice, and that the crop is a good one and the plant up to date. There is every reason to expect, there fore, that the question of municipal to will ge, a good tryout in Willimanti

Ends Controversy Between Himself and the City.

City Clerk A. C. Scripture has re-ceived from former Judge William A. Arnold a check for $49, the amount in dispute between himself and the city. of aldermen Monday evening from ludge Arnold in which he maintained his right to the amount, but stated that rather than have any controversy up-on the subject he would send his check for the sum, if in the opinion of the ported that he did not consider Judge Arnold legally entitled to the money, and the inter has promptly made good The Queen

The sum was claimed by Mr. Arnold as fees to the clerk of court for appeal cases and commitments. Although no clerk of court exists the former judge's stand was that he was in fact clerk, and therefore was entitled to the fees. There is room for considerable differerence on the technical point and the wording of the statutes applicable, but Judge Arnold has gracefully waived his claim rather than dispute the matter, and the controversy is ended.
